VILLA NELL

CALA SALADA, IBIZA

- Seven bedrooms and nine full baths
- Nine supremely private acres

This extraordinary seven-bedroom retreat was designed by Belgian architect Bruno Erpicum to disappear into the landscape, giving center stage to the showstopping blue of sky and sea. Wrapped in walls of glass, it is surrounded by nine acres of former farmland, with almond trees, vineyards, and olive groves, the last of which yield an exquisite organic oil. The contemporary interiors are finished to a high specification, the all-white aesthetic peppered with dramatic pops of color, and feature bold furniture, designer touches, and an ambitious art collection. Spread across three stories, all the living areas and bedrooms overlook the gardens, where beautiful landscaping unfurls from numerous relaxation spots, including a sheltered central patio, an expansive deck by the pool, and intimate private terraces leading from the bedrooms. With unobstructed views of Cala Salada cove and the spectacular sunsets on the horizon, this exceptional property is the embodiment of Balearic serenity.
